

STORY CIRCULATION

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!
The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls
upon The Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following notice:

For Notices of Suppers, excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, etc., The Ledger will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include
notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.
Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in The Ledger is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a business local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—52 times—the bill is $10.50. When he finds it out, there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed suitably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate the trouble, to "all parties" notice will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Lord has spoken good concerning Israel.

They came up here from Covington
To play two games of ball,
And in the first, played yesterday.
They got an awful fall.

Their Pitcher stood upon his toe
And sent them in red hot.
But every time their Fielder was Just where the ball was not.

They must have heard what Knoxville told
About the games played there.
And thought to beat the Maysville boys
By simply fanning air.

But now they're sure it is not so—
They know our boys can play.
And more than that, they can beat
The Knoxville's if they try.

It was a great game—
On our side—
And the other fellows weren't in it!

In the contest between Covington and Maysville at East End Park yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a fair crowd, Maysville started off with a rush, while Covington laid a row of goose-eggs five innings long, making a "scratch" in the sixth, while Maysville at that point had eleven chalks to her credit.

Farrell proved himself an excellent pitcher, and if he had been given good support the visitors would have made things much more interesting for our boys—and the audience.

But the outfielding of the Covington contingent was—well, each one should be supplied with a basket if it is expected that they are to keep a ball off the ground.

To their credit, The LEDGER can say that the visitors are a gentlemanly set of fellows, and there was a remarkable absence of "kicking."

How the runs were made:
At the start VanWinkle got hit and stole second. Cox flew out. Helleman walked and stole second. McGann scratched and ran it out. Glenn threw wild and Van-Winkle and Helleman scored. Keenan flew out and Reiman flew in—to the catcher. In the second four more runs were scored. Tenley got in on an easy grounder to right. Wadsworth hit to right and Tenley went to third. Sutherland flew out to center and Ray and Henry scored, Sutherland stealing third and scoring on a passed ball. VanWinkle hit for one, and so did Helleman. Dickie scored. Keenan sacrificed, and so did Reiman—to the catcher. In the third one more run was chalked up. Tenley hit the ball down to the plate and ran it out. Wadsworth knocked a high fly to center, and it fell safe. Tenley going to right, Henry being caught at second.
Sutherland hit a fly to center and it was muffed. Ray scoring. Van was decay at first and Cox to center on a fly.
In the fourth one more run was made.
Helleman punched a corker past short,
and walked over to third while the Stars
were playing with the hide. Reiman went out to the catcher. McGann couldn't get to first. Keenan hit a high fly to center, which fell safe, so Helleman walked to the plate. Tenley out to first. Two more in the fifth. Wadsworth flew out to second. Sutherland went out to short.
VanWinkle slipped a dead easy one to center and got first. Cox hit one past third, and Dickie and Ben scored on passed balls. Helleman did at the rubber. One in the sixth. McGann hit over second for a base. Keenan hit past short for one and Mac scored. Reiman fanned.
Tenley flew out to center, and Keenan was caught off first. None in the seventh. One in the eighth. Helleman drove it past third for two. McGann crippled the third baseman, and Helleman scored. Keenan hit to third, who threw low, Keenan going to second. Reiman didn't hit the ball. Tenley and Wadsworth flew out to second. And one in the ninth—13. Sutherland poked a fly to left, which fell safe, Suthie going to third on a wild throw. VanWinkle flew out to third. Cox hit past second for one, and Sutherland scored. Helleman hit to short for an out, and Cox walked into the third baseman's arms.

The Stars got their first in the sixth.
Lally flew out to Reiman. Schroeder tossed one over second for a base. Sommers scratched to VanWinkle, who threw wild and Schroeder scored. Glenn flew out to Wadsworth, who doubled Sommers via Tenley. Their second was

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited issue of silver, believing that it would tend to devalue the currency in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for currency, provided always that a dollar in coin is made precisely as valuable as a dollar in the other.

We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring good wages to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity. We believe that such a system will defray every Government expense, gradually liquidate all our debts, restore public confidence and relieve to the very utmost the burden of taxation.

We favor an American policy which will protect Americans and American interests in every part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignorant monarchies.

SECRETARY CARLISLE, by his policy of postponed payments, succeeded in reducing the deficit for the month of July to $20,195.34. The highest point reached by the deficit during the month just ended was $13,827,773.99. At that time it appeared as if the deficit would reach $15,000,000 at least, but just then Mr. CARLISLE returned home from his vacation, and by pruning payments and pursuing the tactics that made a surplus appear for last June, when there really should have been a deficit, he subtracted $4,822,577.65 from that high point.

SILVER SENATOR STEWART, interviewed recently on the situation in Kentucky, was asked if the Democrats did not have a free silver candidate for Governor on a sound money platform, and he answered—
"No; they have not a free silver candidate for Governor. He has gone over. No man favors free silver who is obliged to wait for a convention to rally his views. The advocates of free silver are men of principle. They do not look to an Administration or to a convention to endorse their opinions. Mr. HARDIN, having looked to the Administration to endorse him, cannot be regarded as a free silver man."

The Silver Senator evidently is not strongly impressed with Mr. HARDIN's call out for the nomination.

THE TRUE STORY

Col. Manning Gives an Account of the Indian Troubles.

He was in Command of the Squad That Arrested the Reds

For illegal Elk Hunting in the Jackson Hole Country—The Prisoners Attempted to Escape, and the Game Warden, Killing Six out of the Nine Bucks.

JACKSON'S HOLE, Wyo., Aug. 2.—Col. Manning came in Thursday from the mountains. His story is the first accurate one of the arrest and killing of the Indians, the cause of the trouble. He says: "On June 7, information having been received that Indians were killing game in violation of the statutes of the state of Wyoming, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Shoshone and Hannock Indians identified as to names. Constable William Manning, with twelve deputies, went into the mountains to serve the warrants. He found one Indian named George and brought him into court. He was found guilty of violating the statutes referred to and was fined $15. One June 21, said Mr. Manning, a second warrant was issued. Constable Manning with two deputies proceeded to Fall River basin, Wyoming, to make arrests. At the head of Snake creek and Granite creek trail the officers located Indians hunting. There were seven in the party, and on the officers' approach the Indians got together and leveled their guns at the men. They then signaled for one man to come to them to parley. The warrant was read to them. On its reading they declared that they would hunt as much as they pleased. They said there was little law in Jackson's Hole and that little they defied. They further said they would fight before they would submit to arrest. Being too heavy in numbers for the white men, no further attempts were made to arrest them. After this talk we watched the Indians and observed that they took nothing from the elk's carcasses but the hides and brains, leaving the rest to rot.

The next information for illegal hunting was filed July 2, and a warrant was issued. Constable Manning, with 36 deputies, went to Grosvent river to serve it.

"We found," said Manning, taking up the story, "five lodges of Indians at the mouth of Rock creek. The camp was surprised in the morning and the Indians were arrested. Forty or fifty fresh elk hides were taken from the Indians. They were brought into court and six pleaded guilty and were fined $75 and costs each, the gross fine being about $1,400. While we were bringing in the prisoners we found we were followed by a scouting party, but we eluded it. However, the Indians escaped in the night, the sentinel falling asleep.

"An information was filed July 10 and a warrant issued charging unidentified Indians with illegally killing game. Constable Manning, with 36 deputies, proceeded to Fall River basin, and there surprised a camp, and arrested ten Indians. One Indian got away, leaving nine in our hands. We traveled about fifteen miles, being headed for Jackson's Hole. The bucks had been disarmed, and I was satisfied that they had no weapons with them or their persons. There were 15 guards with the Indians, and as a precautionary measure I placed a guard in the single file column.

In spite of the fact of the unarmed condition of the Indians the men were instructed to shoot about them. It was understood they were shot at them to keep them from escaping and so when all at once they started, the men then shot and killed them.

This is the story. Afterward came the Indian rumors and preparations for hostilities but there was nothing real hostile.

TERRIBLE RAINSTORM.

CHENEY, Wyo., Aug. 2.—The people of Dubois are keeping a sharp lookout for the Indians who were engaged near Oregon Butte Wednesday night. It is understood that an agreement exists between the Hannocks, Utes, Lemhais and Shoshones by which the government will be informed at the proper time that peace can be secured by issuing them rations.

FIRE DISASTER

The Result of Cloudbursts on the Casper Mountain.

The Pleasure Resort Head of Garden Creek, Wyo., Swept Away.

Original Site of the Hotel Burned Beneath Twenty Feet of Debris, the Head of the Garden Creek, Wyo., Swept Away.

CASPER, WYO., Aug. 2.—A terrible cloudburst occurred south of this city on Casper mountain, at the head of Garden creek, Wednesday night. The creek is about seven miles long and is lined with campers. Near the head of the creek is a summer resort frequented by local picnic parties, and is credited with being one of the most beautiful spots in Central Wyoming.

The first thing the flood reached was the pleasure resort at the head of Garden creek. At this point all the buildings were crushed and swept away and the original site of the hotel at this point is buried beneath twenty or more feet deep.

From here the water followed the course of the creek and demolished everything in its path. Joining from water marks, a volume of water forty feet high and thirty rods wide must have passed a narrow defile about two miles from the mountain proper.

Without warning the great flood of water in its rush down the side of the mountain found many campers up and down the creek, either sleeping or about ready to retire for the night.

N. Newby and his family had retired for the night, when they were surrounded with water and a race for life commenced. Newby says that he heard his wife scream for help as he grabbed for her, but when he reached the next second he was being carried by a great rush of water. That was the last he saw of his wife and baby. Newby grabbed his rifle and ran up the tree and after floating about forty rods was thrown on a bank. Newby was found Thursday morning beneath a pile of debris, twenty feet. The boy has not been found.

Near the Newby camp was caught Samuel Harrison, a farmer. Mr. Harrison's two children were swept in the flood and carried away by the mad waters. The bodies of the children were recovered Thursday morning.

Some idea of the force of the torrent can be formed from the fact that in the first two miles the flood found lodges of rock are to be found. These lodges are twenty-five feet high. In the first one are boulders from the mountain side that weigh fifty tons. Trees two feet in diameter were torn up and carried down the stream. The tents and wagons of all the campers up and down the creek were destroyed and at least fifty persons escaped with nothing but their sleeping garments. The bodies of the campers were sent to the undertakers by the citizens of Casper.

DISCOURAGED.

No Enough Evidence Secured in Chicago to Make Out a Case Against Holmes.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—There was no important development in the case of the case Thursday morning. Patrick Quinn arrived at the Central police station in charge of an officer early in the morning, and was taken to the inspector Fitzpatrick's office, and examined in regard to the statements said to have been made by Holmes to the effect that Emilio Zerkow was still alive and in a convent. He refused to tell anything on this point if he knew anything. Inspector Fitzpatrick said Thursday morning he had nearly abandoned all hope of getting any information out of the Quinlans which would substantiate either the statements made so far, although the department has worked very hard and faithfully, not enough evidence has been secured to make out any sort of a case to warrant a request that Holmes be tried in Chicago. A number of papers and letters have still to be examined, and the digging is being continued along Sixty-third street house, so that hope has not yet been abandoned.

An Operator Murders.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A special from Pitts Camp, Miss., dated Wednesday night, J. A. Gatlin, a prominent local politician, anxious to get election news from Benton county, approached the telegraph office and asked Western Union operator Ed West to take a message. West was busy making out his railroad reports and did not respond at once. A dispute followed, and when West rose and opened the office door to take the telegram, Gatlin entered and drew a pistol shot him in the chest, killing him instantly. Gatlin fled down the railroad. A posse is after him, and a lynching is probable.
